Dear Mr. Newman,

Mr. C.E. Bullowa of Philadelphia kirdly sent me your address so I could bother you with a minor detail.

In your first-rate book on the Early Paper Money of America you say, in reference to the October 25, 1775, Pennsylvania issue that one of the signers was Jonathan Warder.

I have been working on family genealogy, and do not find such a name. I wonder if perhaps it should be John Warder, who was a son of Jeremiah Warder who was a signer for the April 3, 1772 issue. I simply don't know whether the initials, as I read them, "Jn" are for Jonathan, or John.

I have a hunch that you may have used published records of the Pennsylvania legislature, if it was their duty to select and authorize those who could sign. If no published record, then what would the source ofinformation be other than copies of the money itself?

My typing is all thumbs, please excuse. But I would be most interested in any information you might have about both Jeremiah and John-Jonathan Warder.

Sincerely yours,

Warder H. Cadbury

I am not a collector in this field, but have been trying to put together a complete "set" of the Warder signatures. If you have any advice as to how to proceed, specialist dealers, etc., I would be grateful.

Dear Mr. Cadbury:

Mrs. Bullowa remarked about your inquiry when I met her in New York. My information with respect to your family indicates that J. Warder, Jr. who signed the Pennsylvania April 3, 1772 issue is Jeremiah Warder, Jr.

As to the October 25, 1775 issue of Pennsylvania I listed Jonathan Warder because the signature is written Jno. The order of the abbreviation of the name indicates that the name is Jonathan. What appears to be an o is a theta. I have no idea whether a person by the name of Jonathan would be referred to as John or vice versa. I merely used the signature as it was written.

It so happens that there are for sale pieces which contain the Warder name and I am sending you pictures. The owner is in the east and I am not in a position to disclose the name. However, if you are interested I will try to get a modest price on your acquisition of them.

You might look at the Pennsylvania statutes to see how your ancestors are listed in the authorizing legislation as the signers are identified for each issue. Naturally, there are typographical errors and assumptions even in the statutes, but they would be helpful. The statutes are available on microfilm if a law library does not have the originals.

I hope I have been helpful.

Sincerely,

Eric P. Newman

Dear Mr. Newman,

Thank you so much for your letter of the 26th in replyto my inquiry about Warder signatures on the Penna. currency.

I am grateful for your suggestion that I check out the Pannsylvania statutes to see if I can clarify the John vs. Jonathan issue - or, perhaps my family records are incomplete or inaccurate!

And I am grateful too for the pictures of several Warder pieces. I have crossed out in pencil the ones I already have, and so would appreciate your seeing what can be done about acquiring the others. This sheet you sent I enclose.

With my appreciation for your help,

Sincerely yours,

Warder H. Cadbury

Dear Cathy:

Warder H. Cadbury wants to buy four Colonial Pennsylvania Notes containing the signature of his relative. I enclose a photocopy of the Notes. The notes belong to a third party who does not wish to be disclosed. It is our function to secure a reasonable price for the notes and there is no compensation payable for that service.

However, if you could undertake to set a sales price for the four notes, I will arrange to have you receive a 10% commission on the sale, because you called this to my attention originally. I wish there were more involved, but would you be nice enough to set a price and to advise me so that I could write to Warder H. Cadbury.

My kindest regards,

Sincerely,

Eric P. Newman

Memo From

COINHUNTER

July 2, 1977

Dear Eric,

Thank you for your letter of June 28th, received Thursday. Concerning the notes for Warder Cadbury, I must really guess the grade from the shading, since you did not mention the condition of the pieces. In our sale of June 23rd, lot 402 was a 6d note of Oct. 25, 1775 in Crisp Unc. It had Warder's signature on it and brought $35.00.

Must guess grades:

		1 sh. Apr. 3, 1777 Fine plus	25.00
2 sh.	Apr. 3, 1772	Fine	22.00
18 d	" " "	V.F.	35.00
2 sh 6 d	Oct. 25, 1775	E.F.	30.00

You could possibly ask 10% more since it is a special desire, with specific signature.

By the way, did you agree that Jonathan was Cadbury's first name? Have a nice summer.

Sincerely,

Cal Bullowa

Dear Mr. Cadbury:

I am now in a position to sell you on behalf of others the four Pennsylvania notes bearing the signature of your ancestor, J. Warder, Jr. The bill numbers are No. 80, No. 2082, No. 1017 and No. 9674. A reasonable price is $117 for the group. If you wish the notes, please send a check to us for this amount and we will remit the same amount to the owner.

We are glad to have been helpful.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr.Newman,

I am most sorry for the hang-up. I asked the bank here to run a search for my check,and they have informed me today of negative results. Which means that my letter got mislaid, perhaps in the mails. I have ordered a stop-payment, and enclose herewith a new check.

I regret the inconvenience and delay, especiallysince you were so kind to call these notes to my attention.

If you come across any other Pennsylvania notes signed by a Warder, please let me know.

Sincerely yours,

Warder H. Cadbury

Dear Mr. Newman,

We corresponded some years ago about my Warder ancestors who signed some of the Pennsylvania paper money.

I'm writing again to ask if you could suggest a couple of dealers who might be able to find such notes for me - I'm still trying to complete my collection.

Sincerely yours,

Warder Cadbury

Dear Mr. Cadbury:

I just acquired a book printed in 1797 in Lansingburgh. It contains the first attempt in printing the dollar sign. Since you live in that expanded city, I am forced to mention it.

I have your note of February 12, 1988 and have located a couple of signatures of your ancestors. I do not know what pieces you have.

I do not sell items, but perhaps if you want to make a donation to this organization, I personally will donate these pieces to you. I enclose photocopies. You will have to decide what is the best thing to do.

Cordially,

Eric P. Newman
